'Hoodie' gang in gun attack on mum-to-be

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A GANG of teenagers assaulted a pregnant woman at gunpoint and stole her shoes.

Police said the 34-year-old victim, who is six-months pregnant, was left shaken and distressed after the attack in Fishermead.

The woman was walking along Penryn Avenue at around 8pm on Monday, January 14, when six youths approached her and demanded money.

One member of the gang pulled a hand gun on the woman before she was assaulted and pushed to the ground.

While the woman lay on the ground a young girl from the gang stole her shoes.

The victim was saved from serious injury when a passing taxi scared the offenders away.

Police have described the attack as 'cowardly' and are appealing for witnesses to help find the culprits.

Detective Constable Phil Baines said: "The victim remembers there were a few people in the area at the time of the attack and someone came to help her up once the youths ran off. They may have information vital to the investigation.

"This was a cowardly attack by a group of six people on a woman who is six months pregnant.

"Luckily she was not injured but has been left shaken and distressed.

"I am keen to speak to anyone who witnessed the assault or recognises the description of the offenders."

The youth with the gun is around 18-years-old, slim, tall, with blond hair, and wore a silver hooded jumper, blue jeans and black trainers.

The girl is white, around 14-years-old, 4ft 8ins and of heavy build.

She was wearing silver jogging bottoms and a black hooded jacket.

The four other men looked younger than 18 and all wore hoods over their heads.

Anyone with information can contact DC Baines on 08458 505505.

Cash bid to bail out school build

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council is to bid for Government funding to plug a huge shortfall in its new school build programme.

In October £60 million was axed from the programme by Government ministers, while a damning report highlighted major weaknesses.

In November, MK NEWS revealed that the council was accused of common control and governance failures by the Audit Commission.

It has had to find more than £6 million to rectify problems caused at Giles Brook School in Tattenhoe and Ousedale's new Olney campus.

Last year Giles Brook was forced to close after the ceiling threatened to cave in, despite concerns first being raised in 2003. The repairs cost £3 million despite the school costing only £2.9 million to build.

Ousedale was delayed by nine months and went more than a third over budget and is subject to a legal dispute between the authority, contractor and architects.

There have also been problems at Hazeley, Heronsgate in Walnut Tree and Oakgrove.

Yesterday the council revealed it has held talks with the Department of Children, Schools and Families (DCSF) to discuss ways it can top up the shortfall in capital funding to make up the current deficit. This followed on from a meeting between Milton Keynes's two MP's Dr Phyllis Starkey and Mark Lancaster with Schools Minister Jim Knight.

Following discussions the DCSF has brought forward a 'safety valve' bidding process to support local authorities who are unable to meet the demands of their school build programmes from within the original capital allocations.

A national pot of money, £150 million, to cover the period 2008/9 to 2010/11 has been set up.

The council is also making a bid to the Learning & Skills Council (LSC) to support the creation of sixth form facilities at Oakgrove and Hazeley secondary schools.

It hopes that the final phases of these schools, which go out to tender soon, will still be able to meet the planned opening dates of September 2009.

Cllr Euan Henderson, responsible for new school build said: ''It is clear that the government is taking our issue very seriously. We sensed a real willingness from DCSF officials to help Milton Keynes secure the funding it needs to provide our new schools. We have one of the biggest new school building programmes in the country and it simply cannot be delivered without proper funding. Everyone is doing all they then can to sort this issue out''

The original Auidit Commission report, which was presented to a special meeting of the councils audit committee in December, also found that real and significant Health and Safety issues were also ignored at Giles Brook and that evidence indicated 'a real risk of serious physical harm existed at the school."

Control failures included the tight timescales imposed, inadequate preparation for projects, and the absence of effective management as well as reports of unrealistic budgets.

Bids have to be submitted by the end of February.

New mums welcome campaign to raise cash for new neonatal unit

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

NEW mothers have welcomed plans to improve Milton Keynes Hospital's neonatal unit.

The unit has remained unchanged since the early 1980s but, with the birth rate in Milton Keynes rising, a major fund-raising campaign is under way to create a bigger, brighter unit with extra cots.

The hospital wants the public to help raise £250,000 for the Little Future Lives Appeal - part of which will be used to demolish walls to create extra space.

Unit manager Glenda Deacon said: "It's been the same since about 1984.

"This is about making the unit more family friendly.

"Many mothers are in here for up to 16 weeks."

The hospital cares for over 300 premature, small or ill babies a year and donations from the appeal will help to buy vital equipment to provide the most sophisticated care.

If a baby is unwell it is rushed from the delivery room to the intensive care area.

As their health improves babies progress to the high dependancy and special care areas, before being allowed home.

Panto star Bradley Walsh visited on Thursday to drop off £1,700 donated by theatre goers over Christmas.

He showed his support for mums like Laurel Triggs and Phillipa Cullen, who have first hand experience of the current facilities.

Panto star Bradley Walsh with baby Indigo and mum Laurel Triggs at Milton Keynes Hospital's neonatal unit

Phillipa, from Tattenhoe, said: "My son Ethan was born at 26 weeks weighing only one pound 11 ounces.

"He's been through a huge amount but we were very lucky to be able to stay at this hospital, which is only five minutes from where we live.

"I've spent six or seven hours a day here for the last four months.

"What they want to do with this place will be fantastic for the staff, the mums and the babies."

The hospital has agreed to fund four additional cots at £10,000 each as well as seven new nurses and three consultants set to join by September.

Pay dispute: Striking journalists and photograhers outside the Citizen office in Auckland Park, Mount Farm

Journalists strike over pay offer

JOURNALISTS and photographers at Milton Keynes Citizen formed a picket line outside the newspaper's head office during a pay strike this week.

The three-day strike, which began on Monday, came after members of the National Union of Journalists had their pay claim rejected by the newspaper's management.

Further strike action will take place from January 28 to 30 and February 5 to 7 inclusive.

Parent company Johnston Press had offered editorial staff a three per cent pay rise but the union said it was calling for a 3.5 per cent increase to 'reflect the increased number of titles being produced with reduced staff numbers'.

Features editor Karen Jeffery, who is mother of the chapel, said: "The chapel is resolute and we believe we are fighting the good fight.

"We are still keen to talk to management and we would like to resolve this. We have been encouraged by the support of local media, the MPs and people that we know across the city.

"It's very encouraging to realise that people do value what we do."

A statement released by Johnston Press said: "As previously stated, the overall company offer is generous given the current economic climate.

"It combines a fair basic increase with significant improvements in the existing salary structure.

"Steps will continue to be taken to ensure that the quality and frequency of our publications will not suffer as a result of any action taken by the NUJ in Milton Keynes."

Mum calls for cops to arrest attackers

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A MOTHER has called for police to take action after her 15-year-old son was attacked by a gang using iron bars and a home made knife.

The boy, whose identity has been protected, had been out playing football with his friends when he fell victim to an unprovoked attack as they walked through the car park at Tesco Express, Newport Pagnell, on Thursday night.

His mother found him at Milton Keynes Hospital suffering from lacerations to his ear and head and bruising across his body.

Yesterday she spoke of her son's ordeal and her frustration that the culprits remain free in the community.

She told MK NEWS: "His face was covered in blood. I was shocked.

"Somehow he was really calm and the doctor said many men would have cried after what he had been through."

Without any reason to be wary, she had dropped him off to meet his friends at around 8pm and agreed to pick him up an hour later.

But at 8.50pm the boy and his two friends were approached by three older youths who began swearing at him for no reason.

Two of them pulled out telescopic iron bars while the third had what was described as a 'customised shank'.

The bemused group of friends tried to defuse the situation but the main offender hit the victim on his knee with the bar before beating him around the head as he lay on the ground, despite efforts from his friends to intervene.

This boy required plastic surgery to repair damaged cartilage around his ear after being attacked by a gang of youths in Newport Pagnell. His mother can't understand why there have been no arrests despite her claim that police know the culprits

The gang left the boy bloodied and shaking on the floor.

He was taken to hospital and required plastic surgery to repair damaged cartilage around his ear.

One suspect was identified by police and others were identified by students at a city school – however no arrests have been made.

The boy's mother said: "I was horrified and I wanted revenge. Why do older boys go out 'tooled up'? My son is quite quiet and these boys were older than him.

"None of them has been arrested and I don't understand why.

"I think they should be charged.

"You trust the police to do something. I'm really frustrated because the attack was on Thursday night – five nights ago.

"How can someone be assaulted and we know who it was and nothing happens?"

Police described the main offender as about 18-years-old, white, 5ft 10ins, brown hair, wearing a green jacket, jeans and trainers.

Anyone with information is urged to contact the police on 08458 505505.

Council house building punished by right to buy

SIR – The blame for the council not building more council houses lies fairly and squarely on the Government ('Build more council houses call' last week).

Government rules and financial regulations penalise councils that build council homes.

In addition, every home the council built would be open to the 'right to buy' so the council would lose yet another council house to rent to Milton Keynes residents.

That would be fine if the money received from the sale could be used to build another council house. But it can't.

Government rules require that a house costing, say, £100,000 to build must be sold for £40,000 to a tenant eligible for a maximum 60 per cent discount, and half of that £40,000 goes straight back to the Government.

The £20,000 left would not build you much more than a garage!

While the Government punishes councils in this way, it favours housing associations. It provides incentives and subsidies and allows them to act as developers.

The Liberal Democrat-led council's aim is to ensure that the maximum number of family homes with affordable rents come on stream as quickly as possible.

What that means in practice is that the council works closely with the excellent housing associations we have in Milton Keynes to provide new homes and we focus the council's scarce resources on delivering our programme to bring existing council homes up to the 'decent homes' standard by 2012.

The council is actively supporting the all-party campaign to press the Government to give councils a level playing field with housing associations.

This would allow us to improve existing homes and estates, as well as to build new council homes.

Cllr Irene Henderson
Cabinet member for housing, Milton Keynes Council

On the right lines

SIR – Eagle-eyed readers will have spotted that MK Council finally listened to my pleas and repainted the hazard markings outside Bletchley Fire Station just before your photographer arrived (last week's MK News).

Many thanks to all concerned.

The challenge to MK Council now will be to enforce these markings so that inconsiderate drivers who endanger lives receive the appropriate sanction.

I recently asked the council about the amount of time that traffic wardens spend in West Bletchley, as I do not recall ever seeing one here.

I was told that they spend 60-70 hours per month in West Bletchley. No doubt this will come as a surprise to residents in West Bletchley.

In the meantime, rest assured that I've asked for detailed information about exactly where and when these wardens patrol.

Cllr Liz Campbell
Denbigh Ward, West Bletchley

Councils should have power to build homes

SIR – Congratulations to the MK Defend Council Housing Group which organised a successful demonstration outside the council offices last week.

It highlighted the desperate shortage in Milton Keynes of genuinely affordable flats and houses available for our citizens and the role that the council could play in filling this gap.

For too long the supply of housing has been left to the vagaries of the market with disastrous results – a catastrophic shortage of affordable homes to buy or rent.

Gordon Brown, to his credit, has pushed housing much higher up the political agenda and Government investment in affordable homes is rising.

But this is a time-consuming process which could be speeded up by giving more powers and funding to councils to build a new generation of first class council homes with low rents and secure tenancies.

Councils should be given the leading role in driving through a major programme of council house building – they know the needs of their communities and they are accountable.

For the sake of present and future generations we need to act now.

Dave Brunwin
Walton Park

Thick thieves

SIR – What sort of sick people would vandalise an ambulance? – your story last week.

I was shocked and appalled to read that anybody, no matter how desperately they needed drugs or money, would stoop so low to actually steal from an emergency vehicle.

They must be so thick to destroy something that they could actually need to use themselves one day.

I just hope that come the day when these people do actually need an ambulance to help them or a family member, that the ambulance is not able to come for them and they suffer as a result.

That way they might actually start to think about the consequences of their actions.

Name and address supplied

■ SIR – I was disgusted to read your article last week about the ambulance that was trashed by thieves.

I can't believe that anyone would stoop to such levels, what can have been going through their minds?

I don't know what the world is coming to when even ambulances, which provide such an important service to our communities, are not safe.

It is awful to think what could have happened if the patient needed to be rushed to hospital.

Hospital bug cure

SIR – It was encouraging to see that the hospital was getting a thorough deep clean in your paper last week.

Surely this is not before time as we appear to be living in an age when there are more bugs to be caught inside the hospital than on the outside.

Mr J Green
Whaddon Way, Bletchley

Booklovers' home

SIR – I was glad to see that Milton Keynes library has got the recognition it thoroughly deserves by being placed second in the country based on the number of items loaned each year.

I think people forget how vital a role a library can play to people within the community.

I am out of work due to a disability and the library has become a second home for me.

A library is so much more than a place to loan out books.

I do not have access to a computer and use the library computers three or four times a week. It is a lifeline for me and so many other people.

Great day with Lions

SIR – I just thought that I had to write to say what a wonderful day I had watching the MK Lions at last weekend's cup final.

I have never been to a live basketball game before and I was certainly amazed by how exciting the game was.

I normally go along to watch the Dons when they are at home as I feel you should watch your local sides but over the past few weeks the games have been a bit boring with just the odd goal.

But the cup final was something quite different with the game going first one way then the other and when Newcastle came back to within just a couple of points in the final end I was on the edge of my seat.

Well done the Lions, let's hope the Dons can come up with an exciting end of the season and also win, the problem is I don't know which to go and watch now.

‘Many failures and defects at Jurys Inn site’

– dead man John Robinson’s family statement

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

THE family of the man who died in the scaffolding collapse at Jury’s Inn say they cannot believe the failures the inquest has exposed.

John Robinson, 49, was working as a cladder on the scaffolding on Witan Gate when it came crashing to the ground on April 11 2006.

His injuries did not seem life threatening but he died three days later in hospital from a blood clot, which experts say was triggered by the fall.

On Friday nine jurors who had spent two weeks hearing evidence at an inquest returned a narrative verdict in which they concluded that his death was accidental.

The inquest was told of a number of flaws including that the number of ties attaching the scaffolding to the building was insufficient, inspections by main contractor McAleer and Rush were not frequent enough, a loading bay was removed before it should have been and too much was being stored on the scaffolding.

There was insufficient facade bracing, parts of the facade were missing, there were elements of ledger bracing missing, the scaffolding was wider than it should have been and poles and tiles were too far apart.

The jury concluded: “We are returning a narrative verdict of accidental death.

“The deceased by occupation was a tile cladder.

“On 11 April 2006 he was working on the west elevation of the Jury’s Inn hotel Milton Keynes which was in the course of construction.

Inquest jury returned a narrative verdict of accidental death on carpenter John Robinson

“During the morning of 11 April 2006 he and others were fixing tiles to the west elevation. At about 12.30pm on that day the scaffolding upon which he was working started to collapse.

“He fell with the scaffolding towards the ground. Emergency services were called and he was found to have injuries. He was taken to hospital and died three days later.

“No one cause can be identified as the reason for the collapse but there were several factors which contributed to it which were not recognised at the time.”

After the inquest Mr Robinson’s wife and son released a statement which said: “John was a loving husband, father, grandfather, brother and son.

“He was deeply loved by all his family, his nieces, his nephews and many friends.

“When he died at the age of just 49 it was a tragedy for us all and most of all for him.

“The verdict of the jury has confirmed what we always knew, that John died as a result of the collapse of scaffolding at Jury’s Inn.

“We understand the limits of what a verdict at an inquest can say, but believe that in giving a narrative verdict referring to the many factors which contributed to the collapse the jury have found that there were many failures and defects at the Jury’s Inn site and scaffold.

“As a family we can hardly believe the scale of the evidence that the inquest revealed, and we can only hope that lessons have been learned which will mean that no other family has to suffer in the way we have.”

The Health and Safety Executive investigation is ongoing and will identify whether prosecutions can be brought.

Main contractor McAleer and Rushe expressed their condolences and said: “McAleer and Rushe had appointed what it believed was a highly competent scaffolding contractor to carry out the work, but since the accident McAleer and Rushe has revised its procedure and has appointed its own scaffolding expert to oversee the design, construction and inspections of scaffolding across all of its construction sites.

“We have learned from it and we hope that such a tragedy will never occur again on a UK building site.”

One last splash for open air swimmers

Delays on new health centre will see Wolverton lido open this summer

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

Wolverton pool will open in May for one last season

SWIMMERS can get ready to splash out this summer as Wolverton's outdoor pool will open for one more season.

The heated pool on Aylesbury Street West, which is 43-years old, was believed to have closed for good in September to make way for a new health and social care facility to be built on the site.

However, the build date for the health centre has now been put back allowing swimmers another chance to catch the sun's rays by the pool.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust said the complicated health centre project, which involves several organisations, has been posponed to make sure all the plans are right.

"The project has been delayed and we are now anticipating that work will begin on the site in September 2008.

"This provides an opportunity for the pool to open for another season."

Hilary Saunders, chairman of the Wolverton and Watling Way Pools Trust, said: "Fans of open air swimming will have all of next summer to enjoy the experience. It is a lovely experience swimming outside, and the pool is heated.

"I hope people will come on the dull days as well as the crowded very hot days because there are too few "scorchers" to pay our bills.

"I like to swim when it is raining because I then often have the pool all to myself, but I would like more people to discover the joys of swimming in the rain.

"Just a word of warning, we cannot allow you to swim when there is thunder and lightning about."

The pool, which can hold 900 people at a time, is likely to open from May 10.

However, the go ahead has not yet been confirmed by Milton Keynes Council.

When it closes it will be replaced by an Olympic-size indoor swimming pool to be built on land currently owned by Radcliffe School, on Aylesbury Street West and adjoining Western Road Recreation Ground.

This will be funded with £9 million given to the project as part of a £732m Growth Area Funding programme, which the Council placed a bid for earlier this year.

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Rape arrest man released

A MAN who was arrested in connection with a serious sex assault has been released without charge.

The 24-year-old was arrested after a woman called police at 2am on November 1 last year, after she was allegedly assaulted in Ladymeadow Court, Middleton.

The woman, aged 28, claimed that she had been attacked as she walked home from the city centre.

Police marquees were erected on Noon Layer Drive and scenes of crime officers searched for forensic evidence.

The suspect was arrested and questioned by police before being released on police bail.

He returned to Milton Keynes Police Station last Tuesday and was released without charge.

A police spokesman said the investigation is still active.

One-way high street

PLANS to turn the high street in Stony Stratford into a one way road are likely to go ahead.

The idea is among proposals aimed at easing traffic problems in the town.

Milton Keynes Council says the majority of the 500 people who responded to a consultation in December were in favour of the scheme, so it is moving ahead with the project.

The proposals also include a traffic calming scheme on London road, a formal crossing on Church Street close to the junction with High Street and, the introduction of waiting restrictions and residents' permit parking to deal with various parking problems throughout Stony Stratford.

Cllr Chris Williams, transort boss said: "We hope to start work at the end of February and be finished by early spring."

Milton Keynes schoolchildren enjoying the delights of Longrigg – now they could be sharing with 'team builders'

Fund cut could see public use centres

Future unclear for schoolchildrens' Cumbria and Caldecotte facilities

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

TWO outdoor centres used by city school children and youth groups could be opened up to the public to bring in more money.

The education centres, owned by Milton Keynes Council, have both been asked to expand their markets to help secure their futures.

They include the Caldecotte Project, in Simpson, run by the council in partnership with Action4Youth, and Longrigg Residential Centre in Cumbria.

Both were set up as independent non-profit making facilities to serve the young people of Milton Keynes.

Between them they offer outdoor pursuits such as camping, mountaineering, rock climbing, water sports, caving, archery and team building activities.

A review of Milton Keynes' outdoor education services was commissioned by the council to develop a framework for the future of the centres.

This included an urgent need to determine the future funding situation for Longrigg as its existing £30,000 subsidy from the council's dedicated schools budget will be cut from April 2008.

Last Tuesday (January 15) the council's cabinet committee gave the go ahead for an action plan which includes proposals to open up the centres to new markets.

These may include the development of weekend and holiday activities or courses for the public, birthday parties and gift vouchers for activities and the expansion of team building or problem solving courses for local businesses.

Paul Sanders, assistant director for leisure, learning and culture at MK Council said: "The focus of the centres is very much to use the outdoors to improve young people's lives.

"It is about making young people stronger in themselves, more confident and able to work in a team.

"The main focus will always be children, young people and education."

The centres would avoid affecting the service to young people both through programming – for example by opening up the centres on weekends and during holidays when they are not used by schools – and through developing their infrastructure to allow them to keep the groups separate.

This includes plans to expand the watersports centre at the Caldecotte Project.

The action plan also includes proposals to replace the £30,000 grant to Longrigg by transferring £25,000 of subsidy over from Caldecotte and for more joint working between the centres.

Cllr Euan Henderson, cabinet member with responsibility for leisure, said: "These are two super centres that serve a marvellous purpose for the young people of Milton Keynes and we want that to continue.

"In both cases, but particularly at Caldecotte, there is quite a lot of spare capacity that could be sold into the market. This could help to keep their costs down for the council and reduce cost to the tax payer."

With traffic lights: Computer generated image of projected traffic flow at Calverton/Fairways on H3 junction

Lights the future say road planners

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

'I AM convinced traffic lights are the right solution on the V4', Milton Keynes Council's cabinet member for transport, Cllr Chris Williams, has announced.

Six sets of traffic lights are planned on the V4, Watling Street, as part of the plans for 6,500 houses in the Western Expansion Area (WEA), south of Stony Stratford.

Several councillors have expressed concern that the signals will cause grid lock and turn neighbouring estates into rat runs as drivers try to avoid the queues.

But transport planners at MK Council claim new data shows traffic lights will cut journey times dramatically when the new housing is built.

The data, which was displayed at a press conference on Friday, showed that a journey southbound from the H1 Ridgeway down Watling Street to the H4 Dansteed Way, which took 3.6minutes last year, would take 12 minutes with roundabouts in 2016 but only half the time with signalled junctions.

Similarly a journey westbound along the H3 Monks Way from the A5 to the WEA took 1.5 minutes in 2007. In 2016 the data claims this would rise to 28 minutes if roundabouts were still in place, but only 2.5 minutes if traffic lights were installed.

The images showed traffic jams backing up right into the centre of Stony Stratford if roundabouts remained on the grid road.

Cllr Chris Williams said: "I was one of the people that wanted roundabouts to remain and thought we could find a solution but it is not the case here.

"We are not suggesting that traffic lights are the sole solution to growing traffic problems in Milton Keynes, in other areas re-modelled roundabouts will do the job, but our primary objective is to keep Milton Keynes moving."

Transport planners said the traffic lights, which were approved during the outline planning application stage, will use modern technology to constantly collect data and readjust to find the best way of working.

With roundabout: Computer generated image of projected traffic flow at Calverton/Fairways on H3 junction

Kevin Whiteside, chief highways and transport engineer, added: "This is a technical solution to a technical challenge.

"When we talk about traffic signals everyone thinks of the ones here in the city centre and, if they were there, they would cause problems, but these are different."

"If this wasn't Milton Keynes the idea that traffic signals work would not be met with such big surprise."

Developer Gallagher Estates, which became a partner with Milton Keynes Council in the WEA after purchasing the land interests in the area last year, hopes to begin work on the development in May/June this year.

The transport data is set to be available to view on Milton Keynes Council's website this week.

Lawnmower death: Rev Handa Shonin

Coroner in call for monk death pair to come forward

A COUPLE who tried to save a Buddhist monk from dying under a lawn mower could hold valuable information about what happened.

HM Coroner for Milton Keynes is appealing for the pair to contact his officers as they may be able to help an inquest into the death of 50-year-old Reverend Gyosei Handa.

The chief monk died on Tuesday, August 21 after becoming trapped under the lawn mower he had been using to cut the grass at the Peace Pagoda at Willen Lake.

It is believed that a couple, who were walking in the grounds, ran to the assistance of the monk and tried to help.

However, they left the scene before police officers could take their details.

Rev Handa was best known for his annual Hiroshima Day lantern ceremonies and helped to build the Peace Pagoda in 1980 - the first to be built in the western hemisphere.

The circumstances surrounding the death have been investigated by the Health and Safety Executive.

The inquest is due to start in February and Coroner Rodney Corner has urged the couple to contact Milton Keynes Coroner's office on 08458 505505.

Good foundation left by hospital chairman

Mike Rowlands welcomes 'new era' as he retires at the end of April after ten years at the top

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE chairman of Milton Keynes Hospital Trust has declared a 'new era' as he announced his retirement.

Mike Rowlands has worked at the hospital for 10 years and witnessed a host of changes that have shaped health care in Milton Keynes.

Last week the 65-year-old announced his retirement as chairman of Milton Keynes Hospital NHS Foundation Trust, with effect from the end of April.

Mike said: "It's a new era for the trust. This is a good opportunity for someone else to come in and bring a fresh perspective to things.

"My private timescale for retirement had actually been for December last year but foundation trust status was delayed and I was determined to stay until we got it.

"The achievement of foundation status means that local people and staff can now have a real say in the way that their hospital is run and the manner that healthcare services are delivered.

"Over the past ten years the hospital has gone from strength to strength and there has been a real improvement in the reduction of waiting times, which has positively impacted on patient care.

"I shall miss the organisation and all the friends I've made here."

Mike will continue his role as governor of two local schools and will retain his post as Mental Health Act manager for the local PCT.

A statement from Milton Keynes Hospital said: "Both Sir John Southby Bt and Mike Rowlands will be missed by staff from across the trust."

Non-executive director Sir John Southby Bt, who joined the trust in 2000 and was appointed as deputy chairman in 2003, is also set to retire at the end of March.

Call for ban on cinema booze ads

AN MP is calling for a changed to the law that allows adverts for alcohol to be broadcast in cinemas before films with a lower than 18 certificate.

The move by MP Mark Lancaster comes in response to growing concerns at the level of teenage anti-social behaviour in the city.

He asked a Parliamentary question which confirmed that the loophole in the law still exists.

Mr Lancaster said: "It seems inconsistent that having taken the trouble to certify which films should or should not be watched by minors we are then allowing alcohol to be advertised before some films with a lower than 18 certificate.

"I am certainly not suggesting that a change of the rules will be the 'silver bullet' to solve all of our problems with binge drinking and anti-social behaviour but it would be another step in the right direction."

A voluntary code is in place by the industry restricting the advertising of alcohol before films with the lowest certificates but the code does not apply to all films without an 18 certificate.

Who will deal with your affairs and welfare if you can't? Don't lose your right to choose your Attorney by waiting until its too late.

From the 1st October 2007 the Enduring Power of Attorney (EPA) has been replaced with a revised type of power called a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA). However, EPAs made prior to 1st October will continue to be valid.

The LPA has now replaced the EPA as one of the most important legal protection mechanisms for your future. Indeed having an LPA in place is just as important as making a Will because it affects you during your lifetime. The benefit of the LPA is that it will allow you and your family the certainty of knowing who will deal with your affairs and personal welfare if you become incapable of making decisions about these things yourself. Moreover, you will have the comfort of knowing that the Attorney dealing with your affairs is the person of your choice and not someone whom the Court chooses to appoint on your behalf.

Unlike the EPA, an LPA will need to be registered with the Court of Protection before it may be used by your attorney (s). A person can make two types of LPA.

A Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your property and financial affairs.

You can appoint a property and affairs Attorney to manage your finances and property whilst you still have capacity as well as when you lack capacity. For example, it may be easier for you to give someone the power to carry out tasks such as paying your bills if you find it difficult to get about. Please note that the document has to be registered before it can be used.

A personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your personal healthcare and welfare.

We also participate in the Institute of Cancer Research Will for Free Scheme.

As you can see the protection offered by an LPA can be invaluable. Please contact us today to see how we can help.

I'm no stick-in-the-mud

Every fortnight dozens of 4x4 drivers from far and wide gather in wet, muddy fields near Whaddon to test their vehicles to the extreme. MK NEWS reporter Laura Hannam joined them to see whether her driving skills would hold up

I KNEW I was in for a rough ride the moment I arrived at Barn Hill Farm, near Whaddon, and pulled up behind a long queue of very muddy 4x4s.

And as I met Carl Hardwicke, who was to be my instructor for the day, his first words were that this was not your average off-roading, this was 'extreme'.

And he was not wrong.

Carl started by driving his specially adapted Landrover Discovery out into the fields up a severely steep hill covered in mud, which we were slipping and sliding all over.

At this point I was wondering whether I really wanted to do this.

When we reached the top we came upon a huge expanse of mud in which several 4x4s were spinning round in circles.

Here Carl gave me my first experience of a doughnut – and not the sugary kind. It was petrifying as I still did not trust the Landrover not to topple over.

Then it was my turn. I have never driven anything bigger than a Ford Escort before so first I got used to my machine by taking it across the fields and bombing through a wide expanse of fairly shallow water.

I'm one of those people that aims for the puddles on roads so that was great fun.

Then we were off around the fields. Here Carl explained that the only rule was that there were no rules.

You simply had to try to get through the obstacles without getting stuck and try to avoid hitting the other dozens of 4x4s while you do it.

Carl took me through ditches of water five foot deep which reached over the bonnet, over a scarily steep mound which I refused to do more than once and through thick, slippery mud where you could easily lose control of the vehicle.

Through all of this I am proud to say I did not get the 4X4 stuck once.

In fact during the hour and a half I was driving I pulled out three other drivers, one of which had lost a wheel in a deep pool of water.

As the time went on I grew to trust the Landrover and really respect the way it has been designed to literally get through anything.

And by the end of my go I was spinning round the skid pan doing doughnuts perfectly happy.

I think this is a fantastically insane hobby. It really tickled me seeing the drivers buzzing round, getting stuck, pulling each other out, buzzing round and getting stuck again.

It was also really sociable as all the drivers help each other out and many even bring their children along.

Carl, who owns a 4x4 parts business in Cranfield, explained that it is not that hard to get involved in as many drivers bring their on-road vehicles with off-road tyres.

However this is obviously risky as they tend to get damaged, so Carl advised new starters to buy a cheap MOT failure and adapt it where possible.

"Some people buy theirs off ebay," he said.

Barn Hill Farm opens up its fields for 4x4 off-roading once a fortnight on a Sunday and charges £20 per vehicle.

For more information call 01908 501750.

To find out more about Carl's off-roading parts business visit R & C, Cranfield Vehicle Service and Repair Centre, Cranfield University, Wharley End, Cranfield, Beds, MK43 0AW, call 01234 750460, or visit www.randc.co.uk

Pre-fab boxes: New homes at Kingsmead South

Council will object to 'space-age' new homes

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

RESIDENTS in Kingsmead are angry that 'space-age, pre-fab like boxes' could be built near their homes.

Shenley Brook End and Tattenhoe Parish Council is set to object to a detailed application for the first stage of a development south of Kingsmead as it considers the housing is 'inappropriate'.

Outline planning permission for 460 dwellings was granted to Lagan Homes by Milton Keynes Partnership in 2006 and detailed proposals for the first phase, including 160 dwellings, have now been submitted.

Cllr Keith Thomas, a resident of Kingsmead, said: "Local residents were led to believe that the new development would be sympathetically designed to blend with housing in Kingsmead which is a traditional, villagey style with lots of different designs."

"The first 160 houses they are due to start on are modern and couldn't be any less sympathetic with the existing buildings.

"They are space-age, pre-fab like boxes in various shades of grey and black with flat roofs."

"We are not protesting against the development, as we have known this would be happening for up to four years, but against the lack of compatibility of the houses."

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Partnership said the development has been designed to build on the aspiration that Milton Keynes is 'the city that thinks differently, embraces evolution and champions change'.

"Kingsmead South is an exciting development which is championing contemporary design," she said.

"Its relationship with traditional housing in Kingsmead North is acknowledged and the current scheme proposes a more traditional style of development where it fronts Whaddon Road.

"On this part of the site houses will be constructed of more traditional building materials including the use of orange or red brickwork and dark grey, red or brown roof tiles.

"These more traditional shaped homes will incorporate pitched roofs with a blend of contemporary elements."

Milton Keynes Partnership is currently holding a public consultation on the proposals. The deadline for responses is January 31.

If permission is granted, work will start on the site in April with the first residents moving in towards the end of 2008.

Shape hospital's future

CITY residents are being offered the chance to help shape the future of Milton Keynes Hospital.

The trust is appealing for people who live in Hanslope Park, Olney, Sherington, Newport Pagnell North and South or Linford North to join the Members' Council.

Trust secretary James Bufford said: "This is a very exciting opportunity to become involved in the way the hospital and its services develop for the population of Milton Keynes."

Responsibilities of the council include appointing the chairman and non-executive directors, approving the appointment of the chief executive and considering the trust's annual accounts and report.

Members act as a key link between the board of directors and the membership of the foundation trust and also provide vital feedback on development plans.

Elections will be held every three years, with Council Members serving a three year term of office.

The deadline for applications is Monday, February 4.

Poppy Appeal breaks records

A RECORD-BREAKING sum of more than £50,000 was given to the Poppy Appeal by shoppers in the centre:mk this year.

Volunteers for the Royal British Legion collected £53,665 for the appeal in the fortnight at the end of October – £20,000 more than last year.

Overall £110,000 was raised in Milton Keynes, up 10 per cent from the year before.

Peter Boyle, Royal British Legion community fund raiser for Oxfordshire and Bucks, said: "This involved an incredible amount of work by the volunteers and tremendous generosity from shoppers."

"And the money is needed as more and more calls are going to be made of the British Legion with the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq.

"Men are coming back badly injured and they need to be supported for the next 30 or 40 years."

Housing office is set to close despite objections

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

BRADVILLE housing office had its fate sealed last week when a scrutiny panel decided it would definitely close.

Campaigners who recently held a vigil outside the civic offices had called in the cabinet's decision to shut it.

But at the a meeting last Thursday the scrutiny panel sided with the cabinet and said the closure would still go ahead.

Services will relocate to the council's main offices on Silbury Boulevard, Central Milton Keynes.

Previously MK NEWS reported that tenant representative Margaret Burke was shocked when a council leaflet announcing the closure landed on her doormat.

The decision should not have been made until the meeting. Milton Keynes Council blamed it on an 'administrative error'.

Following the scrutiny meeting Mrs Burke said: "We put up a really good case which highlighted shortfalls of their so-called consultation and the very poorly worded survey – which went to Netherfield housing office tenants as well which must have skewed the figures.

"There is now a considerable north-south divide with no housing office in the north of Milton Keynes and three in the south.

"They have said they will have a drop-in service in the area; this did not work when they shut down Greenleys office, after just a few months they closed the drop-in facility. With so many home visits that will be needed, nobody will be able to speak to their local officer if they telephone or visit the civic offices."

Vigil in vain: Demonstrators held a candlelit protest against closure of Bradville housing office outside the civic offices

Only 11 people actually pop into that office a week... it isn't actually value for money

– Cllr Irene Henderson

The decision to close it was made on the basis that numbers are dwindling and the building is deteriorating.

The council says a postal survey showed that Bradville is not convenient for the majority of tenants in the north area and that people prefer to telephone the council if they need to raise an issue and to receive a response by mail.

Speaking previously Cllr Irene Henderson, cabinet member with responsibility for housing, said: "It serves a very large area of the city and is not well placed for public transport so is not easily accessible.

"Only 11 people actually pop into that office a week, they are our latest figures. It isn't actually value for money."

Cllr Sandra Clark, cabinet member for children, has suggested housing office services could be provided at children's centres across the city.

The lifebuoy at the layby near Emberton Park lake where Janet Reid abandoned her mobility scooter

Body in the lake identified

THE body of a woman found at the lake in Emberton Country Park has been formally identified as 63-year-old Janet Reid.

A police diving team discovered her body floating in the fishing lake shortly after 7am on Tuesday after a member of the public reported finding a mobility scooter at a layby next to the lake.

An inquest into the death of Mrs Reid, from Hulton Drive, Emberton, is yet to be scheduled.

Police are treating the death as unexplained and a post mortem will take place later this week.

Anyone with information should call Milton Keynes CID on 08458 505505.

Man died after falling ill in doctors' surgery toilets

A MAN died after he was found seriously ill in the toilets at a doctors' surgery.

Christopher Hobbs, 34, from Myrtle Bank, Stacey Bushes, was pronounced dead at Milton Keynes Hospital after he was found in the toilets at Stantonbury Health Centre on Friday, January 11. His death was reported to the police and the coroner's office is awaiting the results of a toxicology test before a full inquest takes place.

Parks custodian looks for trustees

MILTON Keynes' parks are some of the city's greatest assets.

The Parks Trust cares for 4,500 acres of parkland and green spaces. It is responsible for the major parks in the city including Campbell Park, Willen Lake, Caldecotte Lake, Linford Wood, the Ouzel Valley and many more.

The trust is looking for volunteer trustees who care passionately about Milton Keynes and want to play a part in enhancing and expanding the parks at a time when there is massive growth planned for Milton Keynes.

As well as creating and maintaining inspirational landscapes, the charity provides environmental education and organises over 200 community events in the parks every year.

As an independent charity, funded completely through its property and investments The Parks Trust is not only the biggest landowner but also one of the largest commercial landlords in the city. Its breadth of activity requires a broad range of experience and expertise and the trust is particularly keen to hear from individuals with a successful track record in business leadership, marketing, property or land management.

If anyone is interested in discovering more about how they can help the city's parks to flourish contact The Parks Trust on 01908 233600 or visit www.theparkstrust.com

Milko planning gay home shop parties

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A MILKMAN is one half of a pair bringing shopping parties for the gay community to Milton Keynes.

The two young entrepreneurs, the other is a care worker, have set up an online adult sex shop and are offering party nights in the comfort of your own home.

Frisky Friends follows in the footsteps of Ann Summers parties and the more traditional Tupperware parties.

The host offers up their home and invites their friends to a party during which a party planner arranges games and shows the goods that are on offer.

Partygoers can then try out and buy the products if they wish.

In this case the party plan format has been specifically designed to appeal to the gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender community.

Care worker Craig Borrett, 24, and milkman Zoltan Papp, 30, are tapping into a market that they feel has previously not been touched.

Frisky Friends promises a wide range of products and a prompt delivery service.

Mr Borrett, from Fishermead, said: "There is an obvious need for such a company in the area, especially as online shops aimed at the specific target group seemed to crank up prices. At FriskyFriends we're different. We believe in offering great products at excellent prices, some much cheaper than any high street store."

Craig Borrett from Frisky Friends with glow in the dark handcuffs

Wolverton milkman Mr Papp added: "When I joked of opening a sex shop it seemed right due to the amount of fun we thought we could have.

"We quickly progressed with the idea and decided to leave out the retail unit in order to limit initial start up costs. The gay and lesbian party planning is an area that we would like to emphasise to our customers as we believe friskyfriends.co.uk is unique and unrivalled by its competitors within this field."

To arrange a party or to view the products available log on to www.friskyfriends.co.uk

Alternatively, email party@friskyfriends.co.uk and someone will be in touch to talk through the details.

City street sweepers double leaf litter pile

More than 140 tonnes of fallen leaves go to local farms for compost

MILTON Keynes Council is one of the few local authorities in the UK to compost leaves once they are swept off the streets.

During the autumn months between late September and December more than 141 tonnes of leaves were collected by dedicated collection crews using manual methods.

Leaves littering the city pavements, especially when wet, can be a slip hazard to pedestrians so most local councils have a clearance programme during the autumn months.

The leaves are sent to local farms for composting as part of the council's campaign to remove organic waste from landfill.

This autumn two main crews were used to collect leaves by hand for composting recycled more than 144 tonnes – double last year's total due to an earlier seasonal start than normal.

Council cleansing manager Tina Lucas said: "Recycling is a vital part of our litter collection strategy so composting the leaves was a natural thing for us to do.

"We already operate a recycling scheme for our street litter pickers who separate waste collected in this way for recycling.

"We also introduced a green waste recycling scheme to households in Milton Keynes where we pick up grass cuttings and other garden waste every fortnight.

"This means we have in place the ability to compost this waste so adding leaves collected as part of the litter collection was an easy step for us to take."

Library refurb will open new chapter

A MAJOR facelift for the city's central library will start next month to make the building brighter and more accessible.

During the works the library will open as usual but some areas will have restricted service during the improvements.

The library will be closed to visitors for just two days during the work on March 3 and 4 but will still offer a service via email and phone call for enquiries and renewals.

Staff have worked hard with contractors and advisers to keep as much of the library open as possible while the work is going on.

From February there will be access to the Local Studies Library on the ground floor, with a small range of books to borrow as well as the usual facilities.

The Reference Library on the ground floor will be closed to visitors but a limited reference enquiry service will run from the Local Studies Library including access to the journal and newspaper collection.

The upstairs adult and children's departments will only be accessible by stairs at the back of the building.

Cllr Euan Henderson,cabinet member responsible for the library service, said: 'In the 26 years since it was open over 30 million pairs of feet have come through its doors.

"So now it is time to refresh and modernise it.

"This will be good news in the medium term, and we are sorry for any inconvenience to customers in the short term."

Once the work is completed there will be an area for people to sit and enjoy a cup of coffee as well as computers in the lobby area for people who want to quickly check something on the Internet as they are passing.

HOW THE WORK WILL AFFECT BORROWERS

Monday, February 4 until Saturday, March 1

- Service downstairs (in Local Studies Department) and upstairs (by back stairs)
- Entrance by side and back doors
- Thursday and Friday 6-8pm only on ground floor (Local Studies Department)
- Limited computer access
- No Reference Library
- No children's activities

Monday, March 3 and Tuesday, March 4

- Service by telephone and email only
- Library closed to visitors.

Aiming high: Newton Faulkner's Unplugged and Airbourne gig in the Virgin hot air balloon above the Swiss Alps

Balloonist blasts hot radio waves in a world's-first gig in the sky

A HOT air balloonist who usually flies passengers over Milton Keynes has steered a singer-songwriter to a world first, thousands of feet above the Swiss Alps.

Kenneth Karlstrom, Virgin Balloon Flights' chief pilot, flew the huge 100ft tall Virgin balloon as dreadlocked singer Newton Faulkner played to 13 lucky passengers.

Kenneth can normally be seen piloting the champagne balloon flights in a MK NEWS-sponsored balloon from Willen Lake.

After struggling to get his guitar out of its case in the unusually cosy concert environment, the Brit Award nominee still managed to pull off a dazzling performance which was recorded for Virgin Radio.

The gig was punctuated by loud blazes as father of two Kenneth fired the balloon's burners, while the high altitude and cold temperatures meant Newton had to continually warm up his hands and retune his guitar in order to pull off his light-fingered guitar playing.

The gig was hosted by Virgin Balloon Flights and was the first time a radio session has ever been recorded in a hot air balloon.

Kenneth, who has flown balloons all over the world, said: "Every hot air balloon flight is an unforgettable experience but this has to be in my top 10 and I've been flying for nearly 30 years. Newton is a fantastic performer and it was a dream come true for everyone on board."

Virgin Radio DJ Ben Jones hosted the gig and interviewed Newton high above the clouds. Speaking during the gig Newton, who was 23 on the day, said: "I've done all kinds of gigs in all kinds of places including a moving train but this the ultimate. This time next year I'll have to perform in outer space to top this!"

Milton Keynes Council

Your money, your choice:

Budget consultation 2008/09

Calling all borough residents - now's your chance to tell us what you think about the Council's budget proposals for the coming year.

The budget affects every resident of Milton Keynes as it sets the level of Council Tax and decides the level of services that you receive from the Council. To help us make the right decisions the Council wants to hear your views on our proposals.

This year we are asking for your views not just on the Liberal Democrat Cabinet's proposals, but also proposals from the Conservative and Labour opposition parties where they differ from the Cabinet. This is to reflect the political balance of the Council.

The Council's Cabinet is proposing a Council Tax increase of 3.9%. The rise in council tax means an increase of £39.65 per year, or just over 76p per week, on an average Band D property.

In order to keep Council Tax as low as possible and to minimise the impact on services, the Cabinet is proposing efficiency savings of £3.7m.

We are also proposing to invest in services that the public have told us are important. These include tackling crime and anti-social behaviour; activities for young people; continuing the litter busters team and raising educational standards at GCSE level.

The Council is carrying out consultation on the detailed budget proposals and proposed Council Tax levels until 4th February 2008.

What you tell us will help us to make the final decisions on the budget. The final budget, including Council Tax levels, will be proposed by Cabinet on 19th February and agreed by Full Council on 26th February. Both meetings are open to the public.

We would like your views on those savings that affect services and on the proposed investment in services. You can respond using the response form opposite and return it to the FREEPOST address by 4th February 2008 - you could win £50 in gift vouchers!

If you would like to know more, there is a consultation leaflet that explains more about the budget and Council Tax and outlines what our proposals for next year are. The leaflet will be available in all main Council offices, libraries and at various community locations across Milton Keynes.

Alternatively, you can:

- Go to our website: www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/budget-consultation
- Send an e-mail to: budget@milton-keynes.gov.uk
- Phone us: on 01908 252696
- Write to us at: Budget 2008, FREEPOST ANG7122, Milton Keynes Council, Civic Offices, 1 Saxon Gate East, Milton Keynes MK9 3JB

19	Reduction in Trading Standards service.	-35,000	-35,000	Some reduction in response on complaints and service enquiries and in consumer education partly offset by the use of the Consumer Direct service.
20	Review fairer charging for all clients of adult social care transport services.	-50,000	-50,000	Clients who do not currently pay for transport would have to pay in line with other service users who do to ensure an equitable approach across all care groups
21	Reduce grant to Shelter Advice Service as part of move to new council one-stop shop service.	-50,000	-50,000	Now that comprehensive housing advice services are being provided by the Council, Shelter will be funded mainly to scrutinise delivery of this service.
Increase in charges/fees
22	Increase leisure charges further than Inflation	+1,000	+1,000	A small increase in costs of Council leisure and sports facilities.
23	Charging parish councils for training to parish councillors	+3,000	+3,000	Increased cost to parish councils.
Labour Party alternative proposals for additional investment in services These are offered as alternatives to the Liberal Democrat investment proposals
24	Grants to Parish and Town Councils in areas with a low Council Tax base (due to lower valuations) to ensure that the poorest areas are not at a funding disadvantage.	+220,000	+220,000	Increased income for parish and town councils serving the poorest areas. They may choose to spend this on improving services or keeping their council tax precepts low. All of Bletchley, along with Wolverton, Stony Stratford, New Bradwell and all of the new city except for the Wards of Emerson Valley, Furzton, Loughton Park, Walton Park and parts of Middleton and the City Centre will benefit
25	Small grants to Residents Associations throughout the Borough	+30,000	+30,000	Provide assistance to residents associations towards their costs
26	4 extra street Wardens to improve community safety and help tackle crime in areas with high crime rates and areas where anti social behaviour is a problem	+92,000	+92,000	Additional wardens in areas of proven need. They will work with the Police and others to help fight crime, improve community safety and reduce anti social behaviour.
27	Improvement fund for Bus services. A small additional budget to improve bus services	+100,000	+100,000	More subsidised services, for example improved evening as well as some day time services
28	Improvements to street cleansing and additional resources to deal with fly tipping in areas where this is most needed	+100,000	+100,000	Targeted areas would be cleaner as a result
29	A fund for regeneration projects which local people and local organisations can bid for	+100,000	–	To provide a pot for local people to bid for in areas where regeneration is needed
30	Improvements to youth and children's services in Milton Keynes in partnership with parish and town councils	+100,000	+100,000	Increased accessibility to youth services and for children and families
31	Resources to improve local representation and provide stronger scrutiny of public services in Milton Keynes	+100,000	+100,000	Strengthen the ability of the Council to hold the Executive and other public bodies to account, and help councillors to become champions for their communities, and provide better representational services
32	A Fund for additional footpath and road repairs which local people and organisations can bid for	+100,000	–	A specific sum for bids to be made from local people/ local organisations including residents associations and Parish Councils.
Conservative Party proposals for additional investment in services The following are offered as alternatives to the Liberal Democrat investment proposals
33	Invest in changing the timing of streetlights	+120,000	+120,000	The changes would reduce street lighting after 12.30am at night producing long-term cost savings and reduced CO2 emissions
34	Planning work to regenerate Bletchley and Fenny Stratford	+100,000	+100,000	Plans that can be implemented and support bids for investment funds and that would ultimately improve the quality of life for residents of the area.
35	Planning service improvements	+75,000	+75,000	Improve the performance of the service through an increase in staff
36	Re-focus translation spending	+35,000	+35,000	Improving English language ability within the community using saving from reduced translation spend (see 41 below).

Win free kids' tuition at Express Learning Centre

A MOTHER from Bradwell Common has set up a value tutoring service for children to help with their school studies.

To celebrate the launch of the Express Learning Centre, Lola Alli has teamed up with MK NEWS to offer one lucky reader free tuition for their child for three months, worth £255.

The centre, which launched on Saturday January 12, teaches groups of up to ten children aged nine to 16, giving them extra help for subjects including maths, English and science.

Special support is also available when SATs, entrance exams or GCSEs are looming.

Mrs Alli said she hopes students will benefit from having additional help away from the school environment.

"I have kids who are in their teens," she said. "The trend is that in class they don't want to put their hands up because they feel they will look like a boffin in class, in their own words."

The sessions run on Saturday mornings from 10am until 2pm at Foundation House, Aylesbury Street, Wolverton.

They cost £65 for a month for maths and English tuition and, an extra £20 to add science.

For more information visit the website at www.expresslearningcentre.com or call 01908 690629.

MK Mayoress Cheryl and Mayor Mike Barry with Lola Alli of the Express Learning Centre

HOW TO ENTER

TO be in with a chance of winning three months tuition for your child answer this question: How many children at most will be taught in each group at the Express Learning Centre?
Send your answer along with your name, address, and telephone number to MKNEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes, MK15 0DU, or email competitions@mk-news.co.uk.
Closing date January 30. Editor's decision is final.
The starting date for the competition winner would be a Saturday between February 2 and March 1 2008.

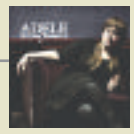
MUSIC REVIEWS



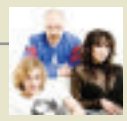
CHASING PAVEMENTS
Adele

YOU know when you hear a song that's really well done, but somehow you just can't get to actually like it?

Hello, Adele.

She's got a really good voice, there's no doubt about that, and you'll hear far worse debut singles than this. Not only that, but the backing band (and it is a proper band too, with trumpets and drums) does its bit to make the whole thing sound, well, really rather accomplished as it happens but my personal tastes don't quite extend as far as slow soul music.

I've been told before I have no soul, so maybe that explains it. I won't complain if it's a hit, in fact it deserves to do well, it's just that this song just doesn't do it for me.



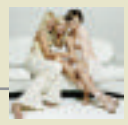
SUNSHINE IN THE RAIN
BWO

HAVE you seen the video to this one? It's very strange.

The singer keeps looking at his hands throughout, and he's either a) wondering what they are or b) wondering who's put the big round stickers on them. Then it cuts to a couple of blokes gleefully whacking stickers on each other's heads. The whole thing's more OCD than BWO, but it's precisely the sort of thing our Scandinavian friends can get away with.

If a British pop group did a video like that, there'd be lots of winking at the camera, as if to say to the audience 'Yeah, we know what we're doing is complete and utter bobbins, but it's a laugh innit?', whereas BWO play the whole thing straight, as if there's some hugely significant meaning to what essentially amounts to buying a load of stickers from WH Smith and larking about with them.

Oh, and there's also a song that goes with the video.



ANYONE WHO HAD A HEART
Atomic Kitten

OH good. They're back.

The same band that ruthlessly hunted down and slaughtered The Tide Is High and Ladies Night among others have now set their sights on another classic.

Apparently, one of this year's European Capitals of Culture – no, not Stavanger, the other one – has had a few of its locals do rather well in the Hit Parade over the years, so an album's being brought out to celebrate and hey presto, Atomic Kitten draw the short straw to cover a Cilla Black chart-topper.

On the face of it, you'd be entitled to wonder how short that particular straw was.

Now, I know it's easy to criticise their music, and God knows they've been only too willing to provide the ammunition over the years, but this is a marked departure from their earlier stuff.

For a start, their singing's improved quite dramatically (and surprisingly), and for another thing, this isn't the usual anodyne midtempo ditty that they used to put out at the height of their success.

Yeah, fair enough it's another slowie, but if you didn't know who this was you'd never guess.

Everyone concerned has put the hours in here and no mistake and, well, they've earned this from me.

Well done, Atomic Kitten.

First, Nickelback, now this.

I must have travelled into a parallel universe where black is white or something.

I hope not, because zebra crossings' would be a nightmare.

The vengeful Sweeney Todd (Johnny Depp) and his willing accomplice Mrs Lovett (Helena Bonham Carter) in Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street

SWEENEY TODD: THE DEMON BARBER OF FLEET STREET
Johnny Depp, Helena Bonham Carter, Alan Rickman, Timothy Spall, Sacha Baron Cohen
From Friday
EARLY 19th-century London. Barber Benjamin Barker (Depp) is transported to a penal colony by Judge Turpin (Rickman), who wants Barker's wife. Fifteen years later, Barker returns under the guise of Sweeney Todd, moves into his old room above Mrs Lovett's (Bonham Carter) pie shop and starts plotting his bloody revenge...

THE SAVAGES (15)
Laura Linney, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Philip Bosco, Gbenga Akinnagbe
From Friday
AS their estranged father Lenny (Bosco) sinks into senility in an Arizona retirement village, Wendy (Linney) and Jon (Hoffman) Savage are forced to figure out how to care for the dad who never cared for them.

IN THE VALLEY OF ELAH (15)
Tommy Lee Jones, Charlize Theron, Susan Sarandon, Jason Patric
From Friday
AFTER his army son goes AWOL, retired military policeman Hank Deerfield (Jones) heads off to find his errant boy. His search proves complex, however, and he enlists the reluctant help of a local detective (Theron).

INVASION OF THE NOT QUITE DEAD
From Friday
A 28 Days Later spoof based in Wales. Set in 1978, the Welsh mountains are invaded by a deadly bacteria.

THE GOOD NIGHT
Keith Allen, Skye Bennett, PenÈlope Cruz, Danny DeVito, Lucy DeVito, Martin Freeman, Michael Gambon, Gwyneth Paltrow, Simon Pegg, Amber Rose Sealey
Now showing
GARY (Freeman) is a washed-up Brit-popper-turned-ad-jingle-writer who starts fantasising about a model (Cruz) despite his marriage to Dora (Paltrow). But can the girl of (and in) his dreams rescue him from his mid-life crisis?

NO COUNTRY FOR OLD MEN (15)
Josh Brolin, Tommy Lee Jones, Javier Bardem, Kelly Macdonald, Woody Harrelson
Now showing
TEXAS, 1980. Hunting in the desert, Llewellyn Moss (Brolin) comes across the wreckage of a drug deal gone wrong and takes the cash without counting on the man sent after him, an implacable killer (Bardem) intent on recovering the loot at any cost.

ALIENS VS PREDATOR: REQUIEM
John Ortiz, Steven Pasquale, Johnny Lewis, Reiko Aylesworth, David Paetkau, Chelah Horsdal, Shareeka Epps
Now showing
WARRING alien and predator races descend on a small town, where unsuspecting residents must band together for any chance of survival.

MK THEATRE CITY ORCHESTRA CONCERT

Sian Edwards takes up the baton with her first City Orchestra concert at MK Theatre

MILTON Keynes City Orchestra starts its new season on Friday with new principal conductor, Sian Edwards at the helm.

Sian is one of the few professional female orchestra conductors in the World.

She has chosen her Principal Changes concert programme featuring Mozart – Symphony No 34, K 338 in C major, Britten – Serenade for tenor, horn and strings, Op 31, Stravinsky – Danses Concertantes and Mozart -– Symphony No 41, K 551 in C major 'Jupiter'.

There are guest appearances by tenor Andrew Tortise and horn player Richard Wainwright.

Sian Edwards is well qualified to take over the baton from the orchestra founder Hilary Davan Wetton.

She has an exceptional CV as a conductor of classical music and opera in many of the great theatres and opera houses across Europe and Russia.

Sian said: "This is an exhilarating new phase in my career. One of the most thrilling things about Milton Keynes City Orchestra is the extraordinarily high calibre of these professional musicians who come together to make up our orchestra.

Central to the development work of the orchestra is our work with young people and within the community.

We place great importance on our education programme and working in the communities."

The concert takes place at Milton Keynes Theatre starting at 7.30pm.

Tickets £9-£28 (concessions available) are available direct from Milton Keynes City Orchestra on 01908 558311 or from Milton Keynes Theatre Box Office on 0870 060 6652.

Saturday, January 26.
THIS Milton Keynes based band, 1000 Hertz, recently released a debut album to rave reviews now they are set to undertake their first official UK tour this month.

Bored of sending bomb threats to MI5, four individuals chose to channel their malcontent into adrenaline-pumped punk-smart frequencies.

The newest and brightest hopes are set to make sure the UK punk/hardcore revolution is not ignored.

Tickets £6. Doors 7.30pm.

AND THEN THERE WERE NONE
January 28- February 2
BASED on the best selling mystery novel of all time, Agatha Christie's own stage adaptation of this dark and captivating tale will thrill and enthral as murder unfolds.

The all star cast features Gerald Harper (Adam Adamant Lives), Jeremy Edwards (Holby City and Hollyoaks), Denis Lill (The Royal) and Peter Byrne (Dixon of Dock Green).

HOBSONS CHOICE
February 4 -9
ONE of the great English comedies a hugely funny and touching drame that features a host of rich and wonderfully written characters.

Set in Salford in 1880, cantankerous and obstinate Henry Horatio Hobson, played by John Savident (Fred Elliot in Coronation Street) runs a successful bootmakers shop.

A widower with a weakness for a drink or two, he tries to get the better of his three irrepressibly bumptious daughters.

When he decrees no marriages to avoid the expensive matter of a dowry, eldest daughter Maggie rebels and sets her sights on her father's master bootmaker – the exceedingly shy Will Mossop.

Our Man in the Bronze Age

All you can see, hear and feel for a fiver

An all-day experience at Milton Keynes Theatre

TICKETS are still available for a colourful festival of creativity taking place at Milton Keynes Theatre on Saturday.

Following a long and successful panto season the theatre will open its doors for one afternoon on January 25 from 2pm until 8pm to offer performances, workshops, insights, tours, exhibitions, music and activities.

The performers range from Sophie Woolley, a comic actress resident at the Soho Theatre in London; 1623 Theatre Company with their version of the seven deadly sins in Sinful Shaxxxpeare and no-holds-Bard funny bits in Stand-up Shakespeare; to local artists such as all-female Milton Keynes dance group Sleek.

Families, children and young people are invited to watch and take part in the activities that will take place around the building.

Education and outreach manager Jodie Gibson said: "The education team are hugely excited about hosting this new initiative, which is using both professional and non-professional musicians, performers and artists of all ages to create and celebrate creativity.

"Our aim is to offer a different experience for people visiting the theatre, rather then the usual 'buy a ticket, sit in the auditorium and watch a performance on stage' scenario. Instead we wanted to create something different and with more than 200 people involved, offering dance, drama, new writing, comedy sketches, live music, workshops, exhibitions and tours, we hope there will be plenty on offer for everyone."

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE – AND ALL FOR A FIVER

THE BLACK HORSE

Woburn
Reviewed by David Gale

FROM the outside The Black Horse gives the impression of a tiny restaurant because of its terraced frontage.

However, once inside, the building stretches back deceptively and is both warming and welcoming.

The emphasise is on quality food and the menu reflects that, free-range chicken and pork, 28-day dry-aged Aberdeenshire beef and seasonal British produce wherever possible.

My partner and I opted for a very novel start to the evening by choosing the Deli board. This is an excellent way to start any meal and gives diners the chance to pick items of cheese, cold meats, fish, pickles, dips and bread from a large selection at £1.60 an item. Alternatively you can opt for the pub choosing a selection for you at £8, which is what we did. Our board included chorizo, Somerset Brie, smoked mackerel pate and hot smoked salmon along with a selection of pickles and bread.

There is also a selection of other starters including ham hock terrine with pickled onions (£5), home made soup of the day (£4) and a winter risotto (£5 starter, £9.50 main)

For our main course I chose the rump cap steak (£14.50) which was a beautiful cut of meat accompanied by chips and a green peppercorn sauce. My partner chose from the specials board and was not disappointed with her braised lamb shank and wholegrain mustard mash.

Other mains included free-range chicken breast, saute cabbage, maple-cured bacon with chestnut cream (£12.50), fillets of seas bass, wilted spinach and mushrooms with thyme butter (£12.50) and irish lamb stew with rustic bread (£10.50.

For dessert we opted for a home-made apple crumble and custard (£5) and a refreshing vanilla panna-cotta with winter berries (£5)

The Black Horse is only a stone's throw from Milton Keynes and offers quality cooked fresh food in a good, not stuffy, atmosphere.

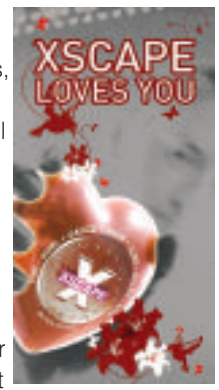
XSCAPE
MILTON KEYNES



We've got some fantastic live events, family entertainment and interactive workshops taking place over the Valentines and Easter half term holidays here at Xscape Milton Keynes, so keep your ear to the ground! Or, more accurately, keep your eye on the website - www.xscape.co.uk - where we will be listing all of the details of our upcoming events.

Looking for somewhere romantic to spend that all important night on February 14th?

In the centre mall at Xscape, you'll find MK's premiere Spanish Tapas bar and Restaurant, La Tasca! We have some fantastic New Years offer available and some thing for everyone. If you are back at work, or just in a rush, why not try or RAPIDO menu for £6.95 which includes three tapas dishes and drink guaranteed in 15 minutes or we give it to you for free! Or how about taking your time and trying our Tapas for a Tenner menu which is all you can eat!

La Tasca

Valentines night is fast approaching and we have the perfect atmosphere that will keep any partner happy for weeks to come. Let us start your night off with a free glass of Spanish cava followed by a fantastic 4 course meal at £22.95 per person. Let the atmosphere of our candle lit restaurant carry you both away into Cupid's arms. Do not hesitate, give us call and let us take the worry away from messing up what is an important night in any relationship.

MK BUSINESS

City is tops for rail commuters

MILTON Keynes is the perfect place to live if you are a cash-strapped commuter according to a new report.

Moving to the city and travelling to work in London instead could save you nearly £7,000 a year the report by the Mortgage Advice Bureau claims.

Commuting from MK saves you money despite the recent inflation-busting rises in train fares.

The report says the extra spent on rail travel would be more than outweighed by lower mortgage costs compared with living in London and using a Travelcard.

The report compares the costs between a £175,000 home in MK and a £355,000 home in London. The MK home had a mortgage repayment of £866 compared to one in London of £1,700 and is 53 miles from the capital, travel costs are £424 making a total saving of £550.

Brian Murphy of the Mortgage Advice Bureau, which commissioned the report, said: "House-price growth in London over the last year has been large, although the market is expected to continue cooling in 2008.

"However, those living in commuter towns still remain financially better off, large rail-fare increases can be offset against the house price and mortgage savings still to be made by those willing to commute into London from further afield."

Bedford was in second spot with a £532 total saving.

Shoppers set record at thecentre:mk

SHOPPERS helped make it a record breaking year for thecentre:mk this Christmas.

Stores reported taking £1,000 a minute on their busiest day, December 27, with 190,000 people visiting the shopping centre on that day alone.

It is believed there were one million visitors to the centre in the week leading up to Christmas.

Christmas Eve and Boxing Day sales increased by 23 per cent and 11 per cent against last year's results.

On December 27, Next opened at 5 am and M&S at 6 am with customers queing from 3.30 am.

Robert Goodman, director at thecentre:mk said: "While December started slowly, the run up to Christmas saw shoppers coming out en masse with a record week of a million people.

"The sales built on that momentum with shoppers attracted by the major store offers at thecentre:mk generating our biggest ever footfall in a single day."

thecentre:mk also attracted more than 20,000 children to Santa's grotto this year – 900 children visited on its busiest day.

Booze blues

WHEN employees were asked why they had taken spurious sick leave over the last year, the hangover came out as the top reason.

Just under one fifth of the UK workforce admitted they had taken time off work after drinking.

This is according to the Sickness Absence Survey 2007 by leading disability insurer Unum.

A much lower proportion of older respondents had taken sick leave due to over-indulgence with only six per cent of 55-64 year olds admitting that this was a reason for sickness absence over the past year.

This contrasts significantly with younger employees in the 16-24 year old age group, where more than a third admitted to taking off time due to alcohol-related sickness.

People living in Scotland are most likely to take sick days off for hangovers, with almost a quarter of Scottish employees admitting they had done this in the last year.

By contrast, workers in the Midlands and the South East are the least likely to take time off due to intemperance, with only 17 per cent of employees in these regions admitting that they had done so.

Family and relationship disputes came out as the second most highly quoted reason for taking unsanctioned time off work, with 15 per cent of workers stating this was the case.

This was closely followed with employees taking time off to spend time with their partners (14 per cent).

Only five per cent admitted to taking time off to watch a sporting event or to enjoy the weather.

Professor Michael O'Donnell, chief medical officer at Unum, said: "These figures reinforce well-documented and worrying trends that people's drinking habits are impacting on the workplace. And from a medical point of view this is particularly worrying, given that in 2005/06, there were 187,640 NHS hospital admissions among adults aged 16 and over with diagnosis specifically related to alcohol; this has more than doubled from 89,280 in 1995/96.

"It is vital that employees recognise that hangovers, and any resulting time off work, not only have serious consequences for their health and their families but can also seriously affect their careers."

Outgoing, persuasive, chatty, organized, fun, talkative, confident, positive, self motivated…..

……these are the kinds of words used to describe our Advertising Sales team here at the MKNEWS (although other words are sometimes used!). If you're outgoing, persuasive and fancy working in a busy but fun media environment this may be the perfect role for you!

Office based

Advertising Sales Advisors

The MK News is part of Iliffe News and Media Ltd and is one of the UK's fastest growing regional newspapers. Having recently moved to new offices next to Willen lake in Milton Keynes we're now looking to recruit two additional Sales Advisors to join our current busy team selling advertising solutions to local businesses.

Sales experience is not necessary (although is always helpful), but a confident and persuasive personality coupled with excellent customer service and administration skills are very important.

These two roles are predominantly office based, and would involve talking to existing and new customers about their marketing and advertising needs both on the telephone and face to face, therefore the ability to cold call is essential..

Candidates need to have an excellent telephone manner and be happy working within small teams and working to deadlines

We offer….

- £12,000 - £15,000 per year basic (dependant on skills and experience)
- Realistic and achievable bonus of £5,000 - £6,000 per year
- 25 days holiday per year
- Regular training and career development
- Contributory Pension and Healthcare after qualifying period

For an informal chat and an application pack please call Hazel Basford, Classified Sales Manager on 01908 242490. Please call during office hours. Alternatively, email your c.v. with a covering letter to hazel.basford@mk-news.co.uk

As a member of Iliffe News & Media we also publish weekly newspapers and websites across Herts, Beds, Bucks, Cambs, Essex and the Midlands.

Income Assistant/Cashier

Grade J from £13,256 p.a.

(12 Month Contract)

Package includes flexi-time

Based in Chicksands, Shefford in Bedfordshire

Would you like to join our friendly Revenues Team on a 12 month contract?

A temporary vacancy has recently arisen in the team and we are looking for somebody who will complement a team which prides itself on its high performance standards and levels of customer care.

We would like to hear from you if you would like to join the team, during what will be a very busy and challenging period.

We are seeking an enthusiastic multi-tasker who relishes the thought of hard work, somebody with a flexible and open minded approach to work and in particular somebody who has cashiering and income processing experience.

You will primarily be processing Council Tax cheque payments using our Income System and receiving telephone calls from Council Tax payers wishing to set up direct debit instructions, as well as assisting with other clerical duties on the Revenues Team.

You will therefore require good communication skills, and have first class data input skills as input accuracy is essential. You will also have good organisational skills, a flexible approach to work, be numerate and be able to work to deadlines.

In return we offer the chance for you to develop your knowledge and skills in this busy and changing environment.

For further details and an information pack please contact the HR Team, Priory House, Monks Walk, Chicksands, Shefford, Beds SG17 5TQ or telephone 01462 611022 for the 24 hour job line, or email recruitment@midbeds.gov.uk or the details can be downloaded from our website www.midbeds.gov.uk Please quote reference 2679. Conditions of Advertising
LSN Media (the publisher)

GENERAL

1. The publisher reserves the right to omit or suspend any advertisement even though accepted and paid for and to make any alterations necessary to maintain standards of the newspaper. The publisher also declines responsibility for the omission of a single advertisement or one or more of a series of advertisements from any cause whatsoever, nor do they accept liability for any loss or damage caused by an error or inaccuracy in the printing of an advertisement. (Advertisers are advised to check their advertisement after the insertion). No re-insertions refund or adjustment will be made where an error, mis-print or omission does not materially detract from the advertisement. The Publisher may at its sole discretion re-insert the whole or part of the advertisement with corrections or refund part or the whole value of the advertisement.
2. The publisher reserves the right to decline any advertisement without giving an explanation or which they deem the content unsuitable for publication, whether an order has been accepted or not. The publisher will not accept orders for advertisements which it deems offensive or defamatory or which infringe the Trades Description Act 1968 and The British Code of Advertising Standards Authority on such matters.
3. An order for advertising services placed by an advertiser or an advertising agency on behalf of an advertiser constitutes an assurance that necessary authorisation or permission has been granted in respect of the use of the advertisement itself, pictorial representation of a living person, references made and words attributed to a living person and text which may be the subject of copyright protection.
4. Printed conditions on advertisement orders will not be recognised as binding unless expressly accepted in writing by the publishers.
5. Advertising rates involving a series, volume or prepayment discount are expressly for the use of the advertiser concerned and are not to divulged to a third party.
6. All artwork designed by the LSN Studio remains the property of LSN Media. Where artwork services are provided, it is on the understanding that it is for the sole use in any of the LSN Media publications unless prior agreement is sought, any unauthorised reproduction will result in a charge being levied on the publisher concerned.
7. Proofs of advertisements are provided upon request but cannot be guaranteed. Where a proof is supplied, the onus is on the recipient to check that all information is correct and to provide the publisher with any neccesary alterations or amendments before the expiration of the deadline. The publisher will not accept responsibility for errors in any advertisement where a proof is supplied and subsequently authorised for publication.
8. Although every effort will be made to meet advertisers requirements, specified positions cannot be guaranteed within the newspaper.
9. All advertisements which carry a premium telephone number must comply with the Code of Practice of The Independent Committee for the supervision of Standards of Telephone Information Services (CSTIS).
10. The advertiser (or his advertising agency) shall indemnify the publisher in respect of all costs, damages or any other charges as the result of legal action or the threat of legal action arising from the publisher of a single advertisement for a series of advertisements, published in accordance with copy instructions supplied to the publisher in pursuance of the advertiser or his advertising agency's order.
11. If an advertisement does not appear due to copy or artwork being supplied after the agreed deadline, the space will be payable in full at the published rates.
12. A request to insert an advertisement assumes acceptance of our Terms & Conditions of Advertising.

DISTRIBUTION

1. Unless otherwise stated, distribution will normally take place within the specified publication to the individual addresses which usually receive the publication within the area and on the date scheduled. This does not necessarily imply 100% delivery to all addresses within the area.
2. The publisher shall not be liable for total or partial non delivery of any publication in which an advertisement is scheduled to appear and no reinsertion, refund or adjustment will be made to the advertiser.

BOX NUMBERS

While every endeavour will be made to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser as soon as possible, no liability will be accepted by the publisher in respect of any loss, damage or delay in forwarding such replies.

CANCELLATION

1. Cancellation of advertisements must be advised 24 hours prior to the booking deadline. If the publisher is unable to resell the space he reserves the right to charge for any loss of revenue incurred.
2. If any advertiser in receipt of a series, volume or prepayment discount cancels before fulfilling the terms of the agreed order, the publisher reserves the right to make a surcharge up to the full published rates for the type of advertisement.
3. Queries concerning cancelled advertisements must be accompanied by the stop number given at the time of cancellation.

PAYMENT

1. Credit facilities are at the discretion of the publisher, but such facilities are limited to strict terms of 30 days. Late payment of account may lead to suspension of account facilities. Any discount which the publisher may have agreed with the advertiser may be forfeit should the advertiser fail to meet the agreed credit terms.
2. Prepaid accounts must be settled by no later than the two days prior to publication. The publisher reserves the right to suspend any advertisement where payment has not been received.
3. Dishonoured cheques will incur a £20 administration fee.

All rates are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time of any advertisement is booked to appear. Recognised advertising agency is 10%

MKMOTORING

Racking up the plus points

IF you're going to buy a family hatchback that looks as futuristic as the Honda Civic, there's no point in spoiling the overall effect for the sake of a few hundred pounds.

All that's lacking with the entry-level 1.4-litre version of this car is a few finishing touches. Alloy wheels perhaps. Plus metallic paint and some sporty addenda would be nice.

The Civic SE+ supplies all this at an eye-catching sub-£15,000 asking price.

To be more specific, the £14,900 package runs to 16ins 'Atlas' alloy wheels, metallic paint in 'Vivid Blue' or 'Alabaster Silver' and an 'Image Pack' with colour-coded front, side and rear skirts, plus a body-coloured spoiler.

That's in addition to the standard specification of all current 1.4-litre Civics which runs to power steering, central locking, remote keyless entry, twin front and side airbags, ABS with EBD, brake assist, electric heated mirrors, a height adjustable driver's seat, 60:40 split rear seats, a CD stereo, active head restraints, climate control, a refrigerated glovebox and steering wheel-mounted audio controls.

The 1.4-litre SE+ is available only in the five-door bodystyle.

The 1.4-litre i-DSI engine used in the SE+ is an 82bhp unit that, like most Honda petrol units, responds well to being revved quite hard. Peak power is achieved at 5,700rpm, so there is a benefit to be gleaned from holding on to your gears that shade longer.

Performance isn't really the point of this powerplant but if you really persevere, it will spirit the Civic from 0 to 62mph in 14.6 seconds, way down on the 8.9s sprint that's achievable in the 1.8-powered model.

The 1.4 i-DSI is the engine to go for if your life at the wheel seems to be spent in one long traffic jam.

The engine is ideal for crawling along through urban sprawl, with its modest 47.9mph combined and 37.2mpg urban fuel economy figures and hushed refinement.

Torque of 119Nm is produced at 2,800rpm and this helps when pulling out briskly into tight gaps in the traffic.

On the road, the 1.4 Honda Civic is much as you would expect from a 1.4-litre family hatchback.

The engine is quiet and competent but not particularly exciting.

The Civic is very at home in urban areas where the light touch of its controls and its tight turning circle make it a pleasure to punt about.

In such situations, the lack of get up and go from the engine isn't too important and you're free to get on with enjoying the responsive chassis.

The thick C-pillar hinders visibility out the back as does the split rear screen but you get a good view around the front of the car.

Honda's Civic SE+ is an entry-level family hatch that doesn't constantly remind you of the fact.

The engine is refined, economical and reasonably sprightly, build quality is good and there's a surprising degree of practicality to the interior.

Its £14,900 price point is a shade above comparable Focus, Megane and Golf models but this Civic feels a more complete car. Enough said.

ROCHDALE
League Two
Saturday, January 26. KO 3pm
Stadiummk

ROCHDALE, who have lost one match on the road this term, are one of the form sides in League Two at the moment.

Keith Hill's side had their match against Bradford postponed at the weekend but prior to that they had lost just once in nine games.

When the Dons travelled to the Spotland Stadium in September it appeared to be three points in the bag as they held a 2-1 lead over their hosts. However, two goals in the final minute secured Rochdale a dramatic win.

The Dons will be hoping to erase those memories as they host Dale and will also want to return to winning ways at home following their first back-to-back defeats of the season.

With Kevin Gallen returning to the bench against Wrexham, Ince has the choice between him and Aaron Wilbraham upfront in the favoured lone-striker role.

MACCLESFIELD TOWN
League Two
Tuesday, January 29. KO 7.45pm
Stadiummk

FIVE months ago a six goal thriller could not separate the two sides.

Eighteen places is the difference between the teams now but Macclesfield will look at bottom-place Wrexham's victory over the league leaders to give them a little inspiration.

The Silkmen will also know they are capable of pulling off an upset too, just a few weeks ago despite having ten men for almost 40 minutes, they grabbed an important 1-0 win at Peterborough.

Meanwhile, Danny Swailes, right, will be hoping he can shake off the groin strain that has plagued him in recent weeks to join Alan Navarro and Paul Ince in getting one over their former club.

DONS reserves were subjected to an embarrassing 12-1 thrashing at the hands of Ipswich Town.

Three trailists, Shaun Newton, Reis Ashraf and James Simmonds, were in the Dons line-up who face the experienced Ipswich outfit which included Fabian Wilnis, Richard Naylor and Dan Harding.

Jordan Rhodes was the star player for the Tractor boys as he claimed six of the goals, while Ashraf came off the bench to score the consolation for the Dons.

THREE MK Dons players have left the club.

Sam Page and Scott Taylor departed last week while John Hastings said his goodbyes on Monday.

Defender Page, who came through the club's academy ranks, has spent most of this season on loan to Hendon after seeing first team opportunities limited.

While Hastings, who joined 18-months ago from non-league Tooting and Mitcham United, made 12 first team appearances.

Striker Taylor spent two years with the club, playing under three managers, and scored five goals in his 55 appearances.

Taylor said: "The supporters have been absolutely fantastic during my time with the club. They've given me nothing but their full backing from day one and they deserve all the success I'm sure they will enjoy in the coming years."

Little's buy, buy, buy gamble pays off for Wrexham

Seven new players put an end to seven straight defeats

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

ROCK-BOTTOM Wrexham pulled off the result of the weekend when they ended a barren run of seven home games to beat MK Dons 1-0.

A mismatch on paper, with the Dons holding one of the best away records in the country - travelling to Wales with only one defeat on the road while Wrexham were nursing seven straight league defeats.

But the Welsh side have taken advantage of the January transfer window by bringing in nine new players, with seven of them in the match day squad facing the Dons.

The new players signalled a new fight for the relegation-stricken side and unfortunately for the Dons they were up against a battling team.

Brian Little has taken a massive gamble, shippingi n a mass of players, hoping they gel quickly and take them to safety. It could have gone one of two ways, the team could have looked disjointed and lack the communication needed to win games or they could fight for the right to be in the starting line-up and show their new Gaffer they are the players to rescue the side.

As for the Dons, if the Wrexham players did not know each other, Paul Ince's game plan would have been a little tougher than usual.

On the day the Robins were arguably the better side, they were built from the back with a solid defence closing down any Dons attack to stifle and stop them.

When the Dons reverted to a few long balls down to Aaron Wilbraham they were quickly nodded away by centre back pairing Steve Evans and Richard Hope, who looked solid at the back throughout.

Colin Cameron had the pick of the chances for the Dons when he managed to get the slightest touch on a tight angled cross from Keith Andrews, but curled the ball just beyond the post.

And it was that effort early on in the first-half that could have changed the fate for the Dons, something boss Ince is all too aware of.

"When you play teams like that you've got to take your chances early doors," he said, "Colin Cameron should have scored and after that it became a nothing game, nil-nil would have been a fair result."

The Robins' winner came in controversial circumstances as keeper Willy Gueret looked to be fouled in his initial clearance. Phil Bollard appeared to bump into Gueret as he half punched a Danny Sonner corner, and when Andrews eventually pulled the ball out of the box it fell at the feet of Neil Roberts who sent a perfectly executed chip into the back of the net.

Back-to-back defeats have come at a price for the Dons as their 11 point lead at the top has been chopped to seven, with four of the chasing sides also holding a game in hand.

Ince said: "I feel we let ourselves down, I don't think we battled hard enough, they out battled us - that's not something I like to say about my team."

MK DONS v WREXHAM

He nose you know: Drissa Diallo sporting a bandage puts in a pass during the second half against Wrexham on Saturday

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

LOOKING back at Saturday's game, I have to say that it had a draw written all over it. Both teams created little and I think both managers would have happily walked away sharing the points.

At this time it seems like the old MK Dons luck is coming back to haunt us, when I say luck I mean lack of it. Over the past few weeks we have seen the weather get worse and the pitches seem to be deteriorating quicker than an English Summer!

To be honest I think this doesn't help us one bit and I know the Gaffer commented on the state of Wrexham's pitch on Saturday. Having spoken to their groundsman, I know for a fact that they had 19 days of solid rain and they hadn't touched the pitch since the rain started. Everybody knows by now that we try to play the game the right way but you also have to have the means to do this. No disrespect to groundsmen and managers throughout the league but if they can gain any advantage they will.

This is how highly regarded we are in League Two.

Now what we have to do is quickly adapt to these tactics and make sure that in each game we are more prepared for the physical battle rather than total football.

Fair play to Wrexham, they had a game plan and they stuck to it so you can't really take anything away from them. I think we will just have to get used to that style of play, especially away from home.

One thing I have learned this year, having watched the Gaffer and his staff work, is that the defeat Saturday would have cut him deeper than anyone else.

He will definitely be demanding much more from our next two fixtures. Both are against teams that know the league inside and out so we will have to take our chances when they come and really fly out of the blocks to get the results needed.

See you Saturday.

THE Lions have their BBL Trophy fate in their own hands.

At the start of the weekend the Lions looked to be bowing out of the competition in the group stages as they slipped to a narrow defeat at the hands of reigning champions Plymouth Raiders. But Cheshire Jets threw them a lifeline as they beat Plymouth leaving the last semi-final spot up for grabs.

The Raiders and Jets have a chance to qualify but rely on other results to go their way where as the formula is simple for the Lions. Beat Leicester this weekend and they will once again face Newcastle Eagles but this time in the semi-finals, lose to Leicester and they kiss goodbye to their stab at a second trophy this season.

Following their triumph in the BBL Cup the Lions paraded their silverware before the match, while the Riders showed off new signing Carlo White.

And White wasted no time in showing the travelling support what they could expect from him as he netted three times to tie the score at 6-6 with three minutes gone.

Terrell Brown led the way in a 13-0 burst as he hit two three-pointers before Chad McKnight encouraged a promising response but the Lions were leading 28-10 at the end of the first quarter.

The first six points of the second fell to Tony Windless and after exchanging baskets White then set the Riders off on a 12-0 run but Vince Macauley's side still held a 50-36 advantage.

The Riders picked up in the third quarter with Vear and Wellington putting the points on the board but the Lions continued to do just enough to carry their lead into the final stage.

It was a blistering end to the game as Peter Heizer sealed seven points and Brown hit four three-pointers before Shawn Jamison and Liam Cort secured the convincing score line.

On Saturday, the Lions continued where they left off and held a lead over Plymouth up to half-time.

Then Plymouth discovered some form and were able to string a 10-5 run together to tie the game at the end of the third, setting up a nail biting final quarter.

When Anthony Martin grabbed the last three points of the evening the Lions' BBL Trophy dreams looked shattered, but luckily for them the Cheshire Jets got the result needed to keep the Lions in with a shout.

■ THE must-win tie with Leicester Riders takes place this Saturday. Tip-off at the Gateway is at 7.30pm.

Lightning back after Slough slump

WIGHTLINK felt a Lightning backlash as MK hammered home nine unanswered goals a day after being embarrassed at Slough.

The eagerly anticipated clash with title rivals Slough Jets did not live up to expectations as MK failed to turn up.

Nicky Chinn and Kevin Philips had Slough 2-0 up within four minutes as the home side dominated play. While Ross Bowers' goal on the seventh minute gave the travelling support some hope, it turned out to be the solo Lightning strike.

And within a minute Chinn had his second, restoring the two goal difference, before Steve Moria took advantage of a power play giving Slough a 4-1 lead.

It was much the same in the second as the game was played around Lightning and Zornan Kozic netted at the start and end of the period.

Lightning, trailing by five, looked out of sorts and appeared miles behind the Jets, who rounded off the 7-1 whipping with Moria's second of the evening.

But fans were in for a treat the next day as Lightning side sent Wightlink packing with their tails between their legs.

Having put the off colour performance to the back of their minds Lightning ran rampant throughout the sixty minutes.

Ross Bowers was on fine form, hitting his first of five in the second minute, to steer MK to an vital win.

Toni Alasaarela grabbed two while Michael Wales, Gary Clarke and Adam Carr completed the 9-0 victory.

Losing to the Jets must have hurt Lightning but had they lost two on the bounce, their league position would have suffered. As it turned out they kept their third place and are eight points behind leaders Guildford Heat.

The mixed weekend came just days after Lightning had secured a one goal advantage in the Knock-out Cup semi-finals.

Bracknell Bees will visit Milton Keynes tomorrow night knowing they need an early goal to get back on even terms.

Clarke had given Lightning a 1-0 lead at the end of the first and Alasaarela struck to double their lead before Michal Kanka pulled one back.

A flurry of scores in the final period eventually saw Lightning take the all important 4-3 advantage.

■ ON Thursday Lightning host Bracknell in the cup, face-off is at 7.45pm. On Saturday they travel to Swindon, face-off is at 5.45pm. Then on Sunday they host Telford in the league, face-off is at 6pm.

LOCAL RUGBY

MILTON Keynes stay fourth in the Southern Counties North division despite losing to Swindon.

It was a forwards-based match up between the sides as the weather conditions played its part in the scrappy affair.

When the ball was out in open play MK looked lively and their backs were running good lines, but a lack of support meant their moves were never finished.

Swindon were first to score when the ball was secured by their forwards and their well organized pack drove over for an unconverted try. While the kick was missed it did not take long for Swindon to add to their advantage when they were awarded a penalty in front of the posts their fly-half quickly made it 8-0.

MK were also dealt a blow when scrum half Daniel Pearson was forced to leave the field through injury.

The restart was much more promising for MK and it after ten minutes they were on the score board.

Phil Powell broke through the Swindon defence and off-loaded to Mads Jensen who had provided fantastic support. The winger dived over for his eighth try of the season, and narrowed the deficit to three points.

But the fightback was ended when Powell was sin-binned in the final ten minutes for blocking and when Swindon kicked a penalty to make the score 11-5, there was no coming back for MK.

Olney's game against Newbury and Bletchley's meeting with Salisbury in the South West Two east division were both postponed due to unplayable pitches.

MK's badminton stars Gail Emms and Nathan Robertson had their title hopes in the Malaysian Open ended in the semi-finals.

The England pairing lost a 65-minute final against Koreans Lee Yong Dae and Lee Hyo Jung 23-21, 16-21, 21-16.

In the quarter-finals in Kuala Lumpur they knocked out Kristof Hopp and Birgit Overzier of Germany 21-14, 21-16

Now the England squad will head for Seoul and next week's Korean Open for the second Super Series event before returning home to prepare for the English Nationals in Manchester in February.

Emms' hopes of a second semi-final berth ended when she and doubles partner Donna Kellogg fell to China's Gao Ling and Zhao Tingting 21-14 21-7 in the women's doubles quarter-finals.

Local football

Ex-Arsenal star Paul Merson

Top Gunner at dinner

ARSENAL legend Paul Merson is set to tell all about his life in football when he comes to Milton Keynes.

The former Gunner, who also had spells with Middlesborough, Aston Villa, Portsmouth and Walsall, spent 21 years playing professionally and has plenty of behind the scenes memories to share.

Fans can have their chance to meet with the former-England midfielder when he attends the Sportsman's Dinner held at stadiummk.

The event, organised by Milton Keynes Sporting Club and sponsored by MK NEWS, follows the highly successful evening with Matt Le Tissier last year.

The evening, which includes a four-course meal, will take place on Thursday, February 21 and will start at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £40, for more information call 0871 7261235 or visit www.mksportingclub.co.uk

Coulthard in a spin over traction control changes

Red Bull driver fears for safety

Touchy over TC: David Coulthard testing the new Red Bull Racing, RB4 in Jerez last week

FORMULA One chiefs are putting the safety of their drivers at risk to spice up the sport.

At least that is the thoughts of Red Bull Racing driver David Coulthard who has expressed his concerns at the latest rule changes.

It was in particular the ban on traction control, which prevents the rear wheels spinning if a driver applies too much power, that has caused Coulthard the most worry.

Any device or system which would notify drivers of the onset of wheel spin is also not permitted.

Speaking in Jerez at the launch of the new Red Bull car, the RB4, the 36-year-old said: "The big issue is when we have standing water on the track without traction control.

"We've got so used to racing in wetter and wetter conditions due to the toys we've had available to us.

"If we go to Fuji without TC (traction control), you won't have as many cars finish, I can tell you that.

"This is inherently a dangerous sport. There hasn't been a big incident, touch wood, for a long time, but it's just a question of when that happens."

And his Red Bull team mate, Mark Webber, believes he has already seen the knock-on effects in testing.

"No question about it, there will be more crashes," said the Australian, "there are more guys going off, there are more red flags, and that is going to happen in races - that is a 100 per cent certainty."

However, the governing body, the Federation Internationale de l'Automobile (FIA), state the rule change will place more emphasis on driver skill and should lead to more overtaking, as drivers are more likely to make mistakes.

Last year Formula One became popular again, drawing in record audiences for races, while 85,000 turned out for the British Grand Prix. It was one of the most enthralling seasons with the title race going right down to the wire as Kimi Raikkonen pipped Lewis Hamilton - who stole the limelight in an impressive debut season - to the Drivers Championship in the final race.

Twists and turns took place on and off the tack and this years championship has a lot to live up to.

Therefore, the sporting regulations, which cause debate every year, have been adapted to keep petrol heads entertained.

Teams will now be tested to the maximum as they are now required to make gearboxes last four consecutive Grand Prix meetings, or risk a five place penalty, in a bid to improve reliability and cut costs.

All eleven teams must use a standardised, FIA-approved electronic control units and cars participating in the third qualifying stage no longer get back the fuel used in the session. But all the changes could come at a price.

The highly anticipated season starts in Australia in March.
